Dear Student,

As you have been made aware in an earlier email, Wesley College has relaxed payment due-dates for the 2020 summer term. Under normal circumstances (when there is not financial strain placed upon our students and their families by a virus) students would be expected to pay summer course tuition in full prior to the start date of the class. For this year, the expectation is that half of the tuition will be paid prior to the start date – with the balance due at the end of the summer term.

Tuition for summer classes: The catalog states the following regarding summer tuition, which has caused some confusion now that we have converted all of our summer classes to online delivery. Classes that were converted to online delivery after March 13th will not charge the additional online fee. However, keep in mind that most of our summer classes were already set up for online delivery before the arrival of the Coronavirus.

- Summer Undergraduate Tuition: $258/credit
- Summer Online Undergraduate Tuition: $318/credit

Add, Drop, & Withdrawal Deadlines for Summer Classes: There are important deadlines that you need to be aware of with regard to taking a summer class. The most important thing to remember is that, if you don’t drop a summer class before it starts, you will be expected to pay some or all of the tuition. Please read the attached document closely so that you are not surprised by a consequence that you did not anticipate.

Thank you for your patience during this difficult time, and stay healthy.

Best regards,

Pat Seunarine
